DETAILED ACTION

APPLICANTS' RESPONSE

Applicants' amendment and response filed 05 April 2004 has overcome all grounds of rejection.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

The following amendment was discussed with and approved by Applicants' Representative, Konstantin M. Linnik (Interview Summary on 05 January 2005). To expedite the instant invention to allowance claim 21 is canceled.

Therefore:

Claim 21 (canceled)

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The filing of the 'Response and Amendment' has overcome all grounds of rejection in the 'Non-Final Office Action', mailed 27 October 2004, and no other grounds for rejection are present. A new search of the prior art resulted in no applicable rejections under 35 U.S.C. 102 and/or 103. The prior art relevant to the instant claimed invention is Eisen et al. (Cluster analysis and display of genome-wide expression patterns. Proc. Natl. Acad. Sci. USA, 1998; Refer to 'Office Action' mailed 01 June 2004). However, Eisen et al. does not anticipate or suggest the instantly claimed invention because of the absence of the teaching "comparing a sequence of each biopolymer material", "square matrix", and "creating a high-dimensional context vector". It should be noted particular support for the teachings of the creation of a high-dimensional context vector is found on pages 14-15 and 20 of the specification. No pending United States applications have been identified with claims directed to the same invention as claimed herein.

In view of the prior art the instantly claimed method, apparatus, and computer readable medium of “visualizing comparison results for at least one of a plurality of biopolymer materials represented in a set of sequence” is found free of the art. Therefore, claims 14-20 and 22-24 are deemed allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by Applicants must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
